

Learn more about LSEG

my news

by Reuters

December 16, 2025 4:07 PM GMT+5:30 · Updated 18 hours ago

Aa

Feedback

A bird flies past the logo of Vedanta installed on the facade of its headquarters in Mumbai, India January 31, 2018. REUTERS/Danish Siddiqui Purchase Licensing Rights

BENGALURU, Dec 16 - An Indian tribunal has approved oil-to-metals conglomerate Vedanta's (VDAN.NS) plan to split into five different listed entities, the company said on Tuesday.

The plan, first floated in 2023, was facing pushback from the government that feared it would hinder its ability to recover dues.

Get the latest news from India and how it matters to the world with the Reuters India File newsletter. Sign up here.

The approval comes after Vedanta's shareholders and lenders approved the plan in February, and will accelerate the split. Vedanta aims to complete the split by March 31, 2026.

After the demerger, the company will operate as Vedanta Limited, housing its base metals business. Vedanta Aluminium, Talwandi Sabo Power, Vedanta Steel and Iron, and Malco Energy will be the four other entities.

Its shares rose after the news and closed higher 3.7%.

Vedanta's consolidated borrowings stood at 259.38 billion rupees ($2.85 billion) at the end of September.

($1 = 90.9650 Indian rupees)

Reporting by Komal Salecha in Bengaluru; Editing by Sonia Cheema

Our Standards: The Thomson Reuters Trust Principles. ↗

Suggested Topics:

Emerging Markets

Purchase Licensing Rights

Feedback

Read Next

Warburg Pincus nears deal to acquire Hong Kong's Acclime, sources say

34 mins ago

World

Indian central bank steps in aggressively to boost struggling rupee, traders say

1 hour ago

ANALYSIS