VEDANTA on Wednesday reported an 89% rise in its consolidated profit after tax at ₹9,352 crore in the quarter ended March 2026, citing higher sales volume amid rising global metal prices as well as the weakening rupee's exchange rate. In the year-ago period, the Anil Agarwal-led company posted a consolidated PAT (profit after tax) of ₹4,961 crore.

The revenue from operations during the latest fourth quarter also rose by 29% to ₹51,524 crore from ₹39,789 crore a year ago.

“4QFY26 consolidated revenue at ₹51,524 crore, up 29% per cent YoY & 12% QoQ driven by higher LME, volumes, premium, and forex gain,” Vedanta said in a statement.

The total expenses of the company during the reporting quarter rose to ₹19,119 crore from ₹13,702 crore recorded in the year-ago period, the filing said.

Vedanta Executive Director Arun Misra said that FY26 was a year of strong execution for Vedanta, with record operational performance across the portfolio.

“We delivered 2.9 million tonnes of alumina, 2.46 million tonnes of aluminium, 1.1 million tonnes of mined metal at Zinc India...reflecting improved operating efficiency alongside the ramp up of new capacities,” he said. During the year, he said, the company deployed Rs 14,918 crore of growth capex, commissioning key projects, including the new BALCO smelter, downstream expansions at Jharsuguda, the Debari roaster at Zinc India, and 1.3 GW of power capacity.
