

Shaunae named VDHM ambassador

New Delhi: Two-time Olympic 400m champion Shaunae Miller-Uibo has been named International Event Ambassador for the Vedanta Delhi Half Marathon (VDHM), with the race day set for Oct 18 at the JLN stadium.

The Bahamian star won Olympic gold in Rio 2016 and Tokyo 2020, becoming only the second woman after France's Marie-Jose Perec to successfully defend the 400m title. Her Tokyo-winning 48.36 seconds remains a North American record. "I'm especially excited to visit India, and particularly New Delhi, and be part of a race that has such a deep connection with its community," Shaunae said.

The 2022 world champion added: "I hope my journey inspires runners here to trust their process, stay consistent and keep believing in what they can achieve." The event is promoted by Procam International. TNN
