SANDIP DAS New Delhi, June 10

THE GOVERNMENT ON Friday issued new guidelines to pre-vent misleading advertise-ments, including those targeting children and making free claims towoo coming children and making free claims towo consumers. The norms released by the Central Consumer Protection Authority (CCPA) prohibit the endorser of a misleading adver-tisement from making any endorsement for up to one year and for subsequent contraven-tions, prohibition can extend up to three years.

tions, prohibition can extend up to three years.

The guidelines also seek to ensure that consumers are not being fooled with unsubstantiated claims, exaggerated promises, misinformation and false claims. The guidelines has prescribed duties of manufacturer, service provider, advertisers and advertising agency, due diligence to be carried out before endorsing. of up to ₹10 lakh on manufac-turers, advertisers and endorsers for any misleading advertisements. For subsequent contraventions, CPA may impose a penalty of up to ₹50 lakh. The CCPA stated that in the last one year or so, 113 notices had been issued to commercial entities of which 57, were for entities, of which 57 were for misleadingadvertise misleadingadvertisements and 47 notices were related to unfair trade practices and nine were about violation of consumer rights.

sumers heavily rely on reviews posted on e-commerce plat-forms to know about the opin-ion and experience of users who have already purchased the goods or service.

Meanwhile, to curb 'exagger-ated claims' made by advertise-ments associated with EduTech firms and cryptocurrency, the department of consumer affairs bas called a meeting of stake-over social media. In that sense it is good that you are bringing inan external agency to exercise that control."

In response to a query by FE, Singh stated that meeting had been called with EduTech firms like Bybir Sylmacademy and others patterning to advertisements such as 'two teacher advantage' that is putting undue pressure on children. "We are aware of this. I have called a meeting of EduTech companies."
