SURVEY OF EDUCATION 2023

Most rural kids aged 14-18 can't do Class 3 math, 25% can't read

MORETHAN HALF of 14- to 18-MORE HANNIALFOT 14-TO 18-year-old youths in rural India cannot solve a simple three-digit division problem that's usually taught in Class 3-4 and struggle with everyday skills, including determining time and doing basic calculations, shows the latest edition of the Annual Status of Education Report

Status of Education Report (ASER) released on Wednesday. The findings point to a huge skill deficit among ado-lescents, many of them only a few years away from entering the job market. The 2023 report reveals that children in India continue to struggle with basic reading and arithmetic skills well into their terenage wears, even after reach-stand the meaning of what they were reading.

Basic mathematics remains hebig challenge. More than half of the surveyed students (56.7%) could not solve a simple 3-digit by 1-digit division problem. The ability to do division is seen as a proxy for the ability to do do hasic arithmetic operations. Director Wilima Wadhwa said, "At some level, India is in a "At some level, India is in a unique position right now.. For India to become the world's third largest economy, the quality of our labour force has to keep pace with our developmental needs. We can only reap the demo-graphic dividend associated with a young population if our youth are well supported to achieve their aspirations and participate productively in the growth process of the economy."

3 tactics India needs to pass German test

TO REACH PARIS, India will have to do something they haven't in close to a decade – conquer Germany. The ball-sichern-ing (ball-protecting, translated loosely), horizontalplaying, all-controlling, rising-from-the-ashes Germany.

When they last did that in

When they last did that in regulation time, back in February 2015. India were nobody in women's hockey. They barely played big teams, seldom won against them and the Olympics was something they'd only heard and seen but never experienced. Yet, it was also a period of hope. A golden generation of players was expected to take the women's team to previously unforseen heights, which they did. Step after giant step.

which they did. Step and sian fistp.
Rising first to become an Asian force, making it to consecutive Olympics after not gracing on the grandest stage for more than three decades and once there, coming within sniffing distance of a medal.

a medal.

They did all that and more.
But Germany remained a team out of India's reach. The win in Valencia that February afternoon was the only time India have beaten them in regulation time in the last 20 years as per the International Hockey Federation records.

When they met most

Hockey Federation records. When they met most recently, a month ago on December 19, 2023, Germany won comfortably; 3-1 the scoreline read.

This puts into perspective the enormous challenge Savita Punia – one of the two players in the current side who knows what it takes to beat Germany, Monika being the second – and her team in the semifinals of the Olympic Qualifier.

what makes Germany so good? Sjoerd Marijne, the Dutch coach who guided India to a fourth-place finish at the Tokyo Olympics, explains to The Indian Express: "They are very good at ball possession and protect it with their body. They call it ballsichern, something that's taught from the youth level."

"When they control the ball, it's very difficult to snatch it from them," says former India captain Rani Rani Rampal."And when we doget the possession, we have to work even harder to keep it because they will pounce from all sides," she tells this newspaper.
Germany, they both add, are solid while defending. "But they are it defensive," Kani says. "Their forwards also defend well. This style gives them a solid base to launch that a solid base to launch different zones of the ptick," if they are in rhythm, playing stick-to-stick and takendard and the state of the ptick," in they are in rhythm, playing stick-to-stick and takendard and the state of the ptick, "I will be still be attacks."

What makes Germany different—and hence difficult—is that they prefer playing horizontally rather than going vertically like India do. They will keep the ball on one flank, control it until they find space Marijne adds, explaining Ger-many's attacking template. India's defence — with Monika, Udita Duhan and Nikki Pradhan at the heart — has stood out against New Zealand and Italy in the group stage. But Germany will be their toughest test yet in the tournament.

The bumpy turf in Ranchi might make it difficult for Germany to play their usual and overload.

India will bea on the lookout in dia will be or that to steal possession and launch counterattacks. But Germany's horizontal structure means that if a player loses the ball, there's always someone to back her up.

"Hence, they might not be very vulnerable to counterattacks," Marijine says.

As a player, Rani says she went into the matches against Germany knowing the team went into the matches against Germany knowing the team would have to run more than other games, endure long spells without the ball and remain patient. "You have to really work hard to get anything out of them," Rani says.

Marijne adds that the mid-fielders and forwards will have to be careful to not go one-on-one with German defenders because of their strong tackling abilities. "They should instead play give-and-go hockey; play a pass to a teammate, run around the defender and receive the ball back," Marijne adds.

back, 'Marijne adds.

It requires telepathic understanding between players but that's how India played against Australia in the quarterfinals of the Tokyo Olympics, which remains one of the team's biggest wins ever.

Marijne and Paniery that team

Marijne and Ranisay the team nearly ticked all he boxes during the boxes during the match against Germany in Tokyo. The team, under Schopman, raised their game even in the Pro League matches post-Tokyo. Vet, they could not beat them largely because they were unable to seize the moment.

"Germany here they because they were enable to seize the moment. They have great individuals in the team." Rani says. Marijne adds. "In our matches, the difference was the experience of the players, especially in goal-scoring situations. They will be smarter in the key moments of the matches the difference was the experience of the players, especially in goal-scoring situations. They will be smarter in the key moments of the match. But I also believe this team has gained experience over the years. So they should do well this time."

India's forward line has been a hit-and-miss in Ranchi. Salima Tete has been a constant threat while Lal-remsiami and Neha Goyal have used their speed intelligently. But India have lacked the final pass in the attacking third and against a team like Germany, who won't give many scoring chances, it'll come down to how efficient the attackers will be.

And that, eventually, could be the difference.

India haven't beaten Germany in almost a decade.
